Cycle to work plan for town gets the go-ahead

Report by Henry James

A NEW £63,000 cycleway, making it "quicker and safer" for Skelmersdale residents to get to and from work on their bike, has been approved.

The scheme was agreed by the county council's cabinet on Thursday, March 8.

A new path will link the residential areas north of Railway Road, with the employment area of Gladden Place.

The council has said cyclists will be able to make the journey "much quicker" on the new, shorter route. Council officials added that the cycleway will also be "much safer" as people will no longer have to cycle along main roads.

Encourage

County Councillor Keith Iddon, cabinet member for highways and transport, said: "The new cycleway will encourage more people to travel to work and back on their bike.

Aughton Park Railway Station.

Man stole boy's bike at railway station and then threatened to kill him

By Lynda Roughley

A MAN with a "serious interest in bikes" grabbed a mountain bicycle from a schoolboy at Aughton Park Railway Station and threatened to kill him and his friend before riding off on it.

The boy had got on the train at Ormskirk with his £320 Carrera Vengeance mountain bike and Holloway was already in the same carriage.

The boy, who noticed the defendant kept looking at him and his bike, got off the train at the next stop and was closely followed by Holloway, said Paul Woods, prosecuting.

"He met up with his 12-year-old friend on the platform and the man walked ahead of the two friends. He was looking back at the boys and quickly making his way to the top of the staircase.

"The friends helped each other carry the bike to the top of the stairs, then Holloway struck.

"He didn't look at the boy but came to him and with one hand grabbed the bar grip of the bike and grabbed his shoulder with his other hand.

"When the boy tried to hold on he grabbed his arm and said 'give me your bike or I will kill you'."

After grabbing the bike Holloway then rode off while yelling at the victim's friend: "I'm coming after you now, kid." The pair then ran into the booking office in fear.

Mr Wood said that in an impact statement the victim said that "he felt really scared, and scared about seeing the man again and hasn't felt confident to be able to use the trains as he did previously."

Mr Wood added the second boy's victim impact statement revealed how he had wanted to work with trains when he grew up but no longer has these dreams.

Holloway was traced after a CCTV appeal was circulated. He said he did not know what he had done with the bike, which has never been recovered.

When arrested Holloway admitted having a special interest in bikes and admitted collecting them and having photographs of them.

Holloway, of Ford Lane, Litherland, pleaded guilty to robbery.

Sarah Holt, defending, said Holloway suffers depression and anxiety and struggles with mental health issues.

She added he had no previous convictions for violence, has never been in prison and "is very sorry for that which he did".

Jailing him for 16 months the judge, Recorder Peter Birkett QC, said, "You identified a mountain bike being in the possession of a 12-year-old schoolboy as a mountain bike that you decided you wanted for yourself.

"You grabbed the bike from him. You grabbed the boy by the shoulder. You made threats and you rode off with this 12-year-old boy's bike and he's never seen it since."

Once his aircraft arrives at the display's operating base, Andrew is responsible for servicing the aircraft before it can fly again.

Andrew was educated in West Lancashire, attending Cobbs Brow Primary School and Lathom High School before completing a BTEC National Diploma in Sports Coaching, Development and Fitness at Skelmersdale College.

He said: "Being selected for 2018 Circus was amazing. When it was announced I couldn't believe it, to have the opportunity to fly in the back seat of the Red Arrows Hawk T1 is an amazing experience and something I never thought I would do this early in my RAF career."

As Circus 4, Andrew has been paired with Red 4, Flight Lieutenant Chris Lyndon-Smith.

Andrew has worked on Chinook helicopters and has completed detachments to the Middle East and spent time on HMS Illustrious during his time at RAF Odiham.

Officially known as the Royal Air Force Aerobatic Team, the Red Arrows showcase the excellence of the RAF and represent the United Kingdom both at home and overseas.

The team consists of nine display pilots and more than 100 support personnel and technicians. Each of the pilots has previous fast jet operational experience flying the Tornado or the Typhoon, enabling the RAF to secure the skies and protect the nation and its interests, 365-days a year.

One of the world's premier aerobatic teams, the Red Arrows had completed 4,660 displays, in 57 countries, by the end of 2017. Flying Hawk jets, the team is based at RAF Scampton in Lincolnshire.

Cycleway plan for town gets the green light

"Cycling on busy roads can be daunting and put many people off, but the new path will be much safer with no need to cycle through busy traffic.

"A safe crossing point will be installed on Railway Road at the only point in the route where people have to cross the road.

"The cycleway surface will also make it easier for people to ride safely.

"We want to encourage more people to get out on their bikes to improve fitness and cut the amount of cars on the county's roads and cycling schemes like this are a key part of our plans."

Work on the scheme is scheduled to begin in September 2018 and the project should be completed in December 2018.

The first part of the scheme will involve creating a new cycletrack from the Westgate/Waldron junction south to Railway Road through the verge areas.

The second part involves converting the footpath on the south side of Railway Rd to Gladden Place into a cycle path and installing the new crossing point and signage on Railway Road.

Lightcube to be lit red and blue to mark World Down Syndrome Day

Report by Henry James

A WELL-KNOWN West Lancashire landmark – the Lightcube – will be lit up in red and blue to mark World Down Syndrome Day on March 21.

Communities across the world are celebrating World Down Syndrome Day to raise awareness and help increase people's understanding about Down Syndrome. Visit www.worlddownsyndromeday.org for more information.

The Lightcube, on Exchange Island in Skelmersdale, is a seven metres high stainless steel structure, with the top two metres covered with fibre-optic lights controlled by a computer.

The council is arranging the special light display in response to a request from Skelmersdale mother-of-three Gillian Haworth, whose youngest son Tom, aged five, has Down's Syndrome.

Councillor Ian Moran, leader of West Lancashire Borough Council, said: "I will be delighted to see the Lightcube shining red and blue to mark World Down Syndrome Day, as this is a cause which is close to the hearts of many in West Lancashire."

Sex offender found by police in loft is jailed

A MAN from Skelmersdale who breached his sex offender notification requirements, and was found hiding in a loft in Crosby by police, has been jailed.

Paul Jevons, 40, of Elm Court, was wanted by officers after failing to tell police he had moved out of his address in September.

Jevons was traced to Crosby on January 31. Officers attempted to arrest him but he made off in a vehicle before colliding with another car. Again he made off from the scene.

Following enquiries, Jevons was found hiding in the loft of a property in the Carrfield Avenue area of Crosby a day later.

He was arrested and charged with dangerous driving, document offences and breaching his sex offender notification requirements.

Jevons appeared before Wirral Magistrates' Court on February 2, pleading guilty.

He appeared at Liverpool Crown Court on Friday (March 2) and was handed a 14 month jail sentence.

Det Con David Perkins, of Lancashire Police's Sex Offender Management Unit (SOMU), said: "Jevons breached his sex offender notification requirements by failing to tell officers he had left his address.

"He went on the run and following a number of appeals, Jevons was traced to the Merseyside area, arrested and charged, before being handed a custodial sentence for his actions in evading police.

"We welcome the court result and hope it serves as a reminder to offenders we will not tolerate such behaviour. We will catch up with you and you will return to prison."

Concourse's New Look is not on closure list

NATIONAL retailer New Look has revealed its full list of stores that are set to close – and the Skelmersdale store is safe for now.

Employees at the store in the Concourse faced uncertainty after the South African-owned fashion giant announced earlier this month that it was looking to close 60 of its 593 stores following tumbling sales figures.

Its future was plunged into uncertainty after it published a loss of £10.4m in its financial report for the 26 weeks to September 23, 2017, in sharp contrast to the £59.3m pound profit reported in the same period the year before.

About 980 staff from its 15,300-strong UK workforce face redundancy, while rent at about 400 stores will be slashed, although the rescue plan still needs approval from creditors.

Creditors will give a decision on the proposals on March 21.

Among their outlets to close were London - Oxford Circus and Leeds - The Core Shopping Centre.

West Lancs deputy Mayor Coun Noel Delaney with some of the exhibitors at the nostalgia event

Visitors flock to nostalgia event

MORE than a thousand visitors enjoyed a trip back into West Lancashire's past thanks to a joint exhibition held by various history and heritage groups from the borough.

Report by Kenny Parker

The event at Burscough's Stanley Club held over a weekend was opened by the deputy mayor, Cllr Noel Delaney.

Michael Dawson, founder of Images of Burscough and Surrounding Areas, and organiser of the nostalgia festival said it was a 'massive success.'

Mr Dawson said: "It was very busy both days with more than a 1,000 visitors.

"Groups in attendance included Paul Smith of Ormskirk Museum; Richard Houghton of Lathom & Burscough Military Heritage Society; Ormskirk & District Family History Society, and Burscough Heritage Group.

"I'd like to thank the deputy mayor for opening the event and also Lawrence Critchley and Debra Baldwin (fellow local historians with IBSA). But most of all I have to thank all the people that came along over the two days and kindly brought along photos for me to scan.

"It was great to see so many people just chatting away to one another creating a wonderful community spirit.

"Please check out the Facebook page 'Images of Burscough and Surrounding Areas' to see 1000s more photos of our local area."

Cllr Noel Delaney, said: "This was a marvellous event and I thoroughly enjoyed attending and seeing so much local history on display. It must have taken a huge amount of work to pull everything together and I'd like to congratulate everyone involved."

Angry residents stage protest at closure of £650,000 3G pitch

Petition to save facility now stands at 23,000

Report by Henry James

West Lancs Mayor Coun Neil Furey (right) joins campaigners trying to save the 3G sports pitch on the former Glenburn Sport College campus.

RESIDENTS and community figures from Skelmersdale got together to protest against the continued closure of the £650,000 3G pitch facility at the former Glenburn Sports College.

The protest, which took place on Saturday, March 10, was organised by the manager of the Skem Men-Aces disability football club, Carl Eaton.

Recently the Champion reported on how more than 15,000 people had signed a petition to keep the facility for the community.

Carl Eaton said: "Many Skelmersdale locals of all ages braved the elements, and trudged through mud to gather around the 3G pitch at Glenburn.

"We were all in fine voice as we sang out what we wanted, and held up banners with questions that we wanted answers to. Sadly we got no answers, and there were no officers from the county council to hear or see our protest.

"We let the council know our feelings though. This 3G pitch is so greatly needed. Our petition is now standing at 23,000 hits. We want our community to be heard and we want the council to come to a compromise, and find a solution. I think we are all owed that much."

Skelmersdale North Councillor Neil Furey added: "Thanks to the incompetence of Lancashire County Council this valuable facility is under threat. £650,000 of tax-payers money has been spent on this pitch and to lose it would be criminal.

"Lancashire County Council are set to bulldoze this pitch against the wishes of residents across Skelmersdale. I would like to thank local residents for attending the demonstration and joining the fight to save this facility.

"Our message to Lancashire County Council is clear, REUSE IT, DON'T LOSE IT!"

When the Champion contacted the county council, a spokesperson commented they could not financially support the plans to keep the pitch open.

Closure of station front desks 'will not change how the areas are policed' claim force chiefs

Report by Henry James

Skelmersdale Police Station

POLICE chiefs have acted to reassure residents that the closure of front desks at police stations 'will not change how the areas are policed'.

Ormskirk Police station front counter will close on Thursday, March 29 along with others across Lancashire after a review showed that the number of people who use the service has continued to fall.

Skelmersdale Police Station front counter service will change from being open from 9am to 8pm Monday to Sunday to being open 9am to 5pm Monday to Friday and 9am to 6pm on Saturday and Sunday.

Insp Martin Bishop, who has led on the review, said: "I must emphasise that the police stations themselves will not be closing and the closure of the front counter service will not change how the areas will be policed.

"Our review of the front counter service shows that usage continues to fall. Some of this is due to changes to processes such as immigration checks and some vehicle checks which are moving online, but in the main it is due to improved technology and greater use of phones as well as online reporting via our website.

"Members of the public will still be able to contact local officers, engage with local policing teams and gain the help and support they need."

Clive Grunshaw, Lancashire's Police and Crime Commissioner, said: "I want to reiterate that this decision will not change the way areas are policed, local policing teams will still be based and work in communities.

"This was not an easy decision to make but years of shrinking budgets have meant Lancashire Constabulary have had to make savings of over £72 million since 2010, with an estimated £18 million in further savings still to find. The front counters which are closing serve as few as three members of the public a day but we will be able to make savings of around £1.5m.

"People have been voting with their feet for some time and we have to look at using our resources to meet the demand which is coming into the contact centre and moving online.

"Whilst closing front counters is not something we want to do, this is part of the ongoing work to meet the funding gap which we continue to manage, with the Government again failing to provide any extra money for policing in Lancashire."

Front counters mainly provide a service for people to answer their bail conditions, sex offender registrations, immigration checks, handing over or collecting property and presenting car insurance as well as 'meet and greet' for visitors such as legal representatives.

Tim to exhibit fairground attraction again

A WAGON driver from Skelmersdale who makes model fairground rides and exhibited them last year to raise funds for Queenscourt Hospice, is to do it all over again.

Tim O'Connor, 56, is holding the exhibition of his work at the Stanley Club in Burscough on Sunday, March 25 from 11am-4pm.

He decided to collect money for the Southport-based hospice as they looked after his wife, Beryl, before she died from cancer.

At the free event, Tim, from Earlswood, will again showcase his models of fairground attractions including waltzers, ghost trains and a moon rocket, which are based on rides from the 50s and 60s.

Tim and Heather with one of their latest models.

People will be able to see a Diamond T, which is an American truck used in the Second World War. It will be parked outside the Stanley Club.

Tim said: "Last year's event was a success, so I have decided to do it again. Hopefully people who missed it last year will be able to come this time."

Visitors will also be able to see a model of the Speedway, a ride which used to be found at Southport fair. Tim has worked on this with his girlfriend, Heather.

The event will again be sponsored by Silcock's Amusements and Martland's Skip Hire, Burscough and Tim is hoping to recruit more exhibitors.

Man, 42, is evicted from block of flats for putting neighbours lives at risk

A TENANT has been evicted by West Lancashire Borough Council for "putting the lives of neighbours at risk".

The authority took legal action against Alan Moore, aged 42, after he bypassed the electricity meter of his flat in Blakehall, Digmooor.

Bypassing electricity meters is taken extremely seriously by the council, not only for the criminal nature of the offence but also due to the significant risk of fire caused by this activity.

Wigan County Court heard an officer of a utility company discovered that Mr Moore had bypassed the meter when visiting the property.

A council officer gave evidence which said: "The defendant lives in a block of flats, so was not only putting his own life in danger but that of all the other residents."

His written statement also said:

Tenant bypassed electricity meter at his Blakehall home

"The defendant has clearly breached the tenancy agreement in performing this illegal and dangerous act within his flat."

The Court granted possession of the property back to the council and Mr Moore, who was not at the hearing, was evicted on January 31 2018. He was not at the property when the eviction was carried out.

Since the court hearing over possession of the property and the eviction took place, the council has become aware that Mr Moore pleaded guilty to abstracting/using electricity worth £297.72 without authority in a separate conviction secured by the utility company that discovered the electricity had been bypassed.

He was sentenced at Preston Magistrates Court to a 12-month community order and ordered to pay a victim surcharge of £85.

After the hearing Councillor Kevin Wright, cabinet member for community safety, said: "The heightened risk to neighbours' lives if a fire had broken out because of the defendant's irresponsible actions was horrendous."

Councillor Jenny Forshaw, cabinet member for housing and landlord services, said: "The message to tenants is clear. This type of illegal and dangerous activity is likely to lead to them facing legal action from the council."

County council agrees to spend £30m on roads, lights and bridges

Report by Kenny Parker

Schemes are approved across West Lancashire

LANCASHIRE County Council's cabinet has agreed a £30m programme to renew vital transport infrastructure including roads, streetlights, and bridges.

Over £10m of this has been set aside for work to fix potholes, carry out minor repairs and prevent potholes occurring, and includes £2m to address problems on 47 residential roads where potholes are occurring most frequently. A further £8m is being invested in maintaining the busiest routes, with 68 schemes to renew A, B and C roads.

If approved by the full council, roads in West Lancs planned for resurfacing include Hoole Lane (between Church Road and Station Road), while surface dressing maintenance works are planned for numerous roads; the most expensive being Windgate, Tarleton (from Church Road to the roundabout at Carr House Lane), Beacon Lane and Higher Lane, Skelmersdale, and Liverpool Road, Ormskirk (between A565 to Manor Farm).

Works to bridges include the replacement of the foot bridge over the railway line at Bridge Street in Ormskirk.

County Councillor Keith Iddon, cabinet member for highways and transport, said: "Lancashire's roads are vital to our economy, ensuring people and goods can travel efficiently, and it's essential that we prioritise funding accordingly to keep them in good condition.

"The weather this winter has been worse than average, which is why we've been dealing with so many potholes over recent months.

"We know that good roads are a priority for residents and businesses which is why we have put £10m into this year's budget to fix potholes, as well as make structural repairs which will help to prevent them appearing in the first place.

"This maintenance programme will extend the life of our roads and entirely replace some of the most worn-out surfaces. We'll also be patching many small sections where areas of potholes have appeared over the winter, with the warmer weather allowing us to make good quality repairs and minimise the need for repeat visits in the same locations."

The council says the repairs are being made in line with a 15-year plan to improve the health of Lancashire's highway infrastructure which focuses on using survey data to decide when it's the best time to carry out preventative maintenance, before more expensive repairs or replacement are needed. The programme also includes £1m to prevent flooding by upgrading and maintaining drainage systems, as well as £0.5m for schemes to improve road safety, and £0.5m for cycle safety.

Drainage works in West Lancs include the replacement of a highway drain at Appley Lane North, Appley Bridge, and drain relining at North Moor Lane and Small Lane North, Halsall, and Pinfold Lane, Scarisbrick.

County Cllr Iddon added: "The flooding which has affected the county at times over recent years mean that it's more important than ever that our drainage systems are well-maintained and working to full capacity.

"We're also continuing to make our roads safer, and a number of schemes will be delivered to prevent collisions and improve junctions and pedestrian crossing facilities to make it easier for people to walk and cycle."

The funding announcement follows claims by the Labour group that the Tory administration underspent in their highways budget by nearly £7million in the financial year 2017/18.

Labour members say the statistics were uncovered during a Q&A session with leading finance and highways officers at Lancashire County Council.

Skelmersdale East County Councillor John Fillis commented: "In the face of unprecedented public dissatisfaction with the state of Lancashire's roads officers predicted that the underspend from the Highways Budget was £6.9m.

"This is on top of the £3m which the Conservative administration has already accepted that they failed to spend on estate roads.

"It became evident during the meeting that the money would not be spent this year and there were no plans to spend the money next year.

County Councillor Geoff Driver, Tory leader of Lancashire County Council, responded: "There simply is no underspending of the highways repairs budget.

"We have only changed the way it is financed in order to help the council through the serious financial challenges it faces.

"The Labour Group's comments demonstrates yet again that they do not understand local government finance which explains why they have left the Council in such a mess."

Susan Hudson (centre right) from the West Lancashire Allotment Federation and friends at last Saturday's Seed Swap event hosted by Friends of Skelmersdale Library.

Seed Swap hopes to grow!

THE Friends of Skelmersdale Library have hailed their inaugural 'Seed Swap' a great success.

They teamed up with West Lancashire Allotment Federation to stage the event last Saturday at the library.

The public were invited to bring their surplus seeds along and swap them for tokens which could be traded for different seeds.

Mary Whitby from Fosl said: "We received so many donations of seeds and raffle prizes from individual library users, staff, Fosl, West Lancs Allotment Federation member Susan Hudson, and from local supermarkets Booths and Morrisons, National Trust at Rufford Old Hall, The National Garden Scheme, the Freedom Seedbank, Dobbies and Bents garden centres.

"We would like to thank all the people and organisations who contributed seeds, plants, raffle prizes, cakes, time and enthusiasm.

"The event was a great success, the cakes made by WLBC Councillor Maureen Nixon and library staff member, Jane, were extremely popular and very tasty. There were lots of raffle prizes including a lovely coffee and walnut cake made by Cllr Nixon, which was won by a local family, toiletries, prosecco from Booths and aromatic candles.

"We hope to make the seed swap an annual event. So we will get planning the second one very soon."

NHS body warns of 'worrying decline in organ donations

Report by Henry James

NHS Blood and Transplant has warned of a worrying decline in living kidney donation in Lancashire as new national figures hit an eight year low.

There were 990 living kidney donors in the UK during 2017, a 10% decline on the highest ever year, 2013, and the lowest figure since 2009.

In Lancashire, there were only 21 living kidney donors in 2017, compared to 30 in 2013. There are currently 107 people waiting for a kidney in Lancashire and 44 people from Lancashire have died on the transplant waiting list waiting for a kidney in the last five years.

The figures were released to coincide with World Kidney Day (March 8) with an appeal for more people to consider making a life-transforming donation while they are still alive.

The decline is worrying because living kidney donation has always been a success story in the UK, accounting for more than 40% of all donors and a third of all kidney transplants for people waiting.

For suitable patients, transplantation is normally the best treatment for end stage kidney disease compared with dialysis. A transplant from a living kidney donor is the best chance of a successful transplant.

The proposed 'opt out' systems being considered for different UK countries, and the one already in place in Wales, do not affect living donation.

Most living donations are between family and friends. People can also choose to donate altruistically, when their kidney is matched anonymously to a suitable person on the waiting list.

Lisa Burnapp, NHS Blood and Transplant lead nurse for Kidney Donation, said: "Last year, 261 people died in the UK waiting for a kidney transplant, and many of those lives could have been saved through increased living kidney donation.

Organ transport box in theatre

"Living donation has been a major success story for the UK, with one in three patients receiving a kidney transplant from a living donor, so the decline in Lancashire and around the UK is worrying.

"We are investigating the causes and working closely with the clinical community, NHS England and Health Departments in all four UK countries to reverse the trend.

"Anonymous altruistic donations are especially important because they can start transplant chains. It's no coincidence that the high figures for 2013 came when altruistic donation was at its highest ever level."

Altruistic donations can start chains of up to three transplants through the UK's kidney sharing schemes. However the number of altruistic donations has declined from a high of 107 in 2013 to 87 in 2017.

In the UK living kidney transplants have been performed since 1960.

Lathom High pupils attend Book of the Year awards event

PUPILS from Lathom High School in Skelmersdale attended a special event in Preston earlier this month where the shortlisted titles for the Lancashire Book of the Year awards were announced.

Lancashire Book of the Year remains one of the few book awards where young people themselves are totally responsible for drawing up the shortlist and choosing the overall winner.

The event was attended by representatives from 24 high schools from across the county including Lathom.

The shortlisted authors and books are: Kerry Drewery (Cell 7); Lisa Williamson (All About Mia); Laura Eve (The Graces); Emily Barr (The One Memory of Flora Banks); Juno Dawson (Margot and Me); Sharon Gosling (Fir); Jeremy De Quidt (The Wrong Train); Tamsyn Murray (Instructions For A Second Hand Heart); Penny Joelson (I Have No Secrets); Sue Wallman (See How They Lie); and Hayley Barker (Show Stopper).

The winning author will be decided on Tuesday, June 26 and announced at a special celebration event, with sponsors UCLan, on Friday, July 6.

County Councillor Peter Buckley, Lancashire County Council's cabinet member for community and cultural services, said: "Being introduced to books at a young age is important, as it can build up a love of reading that can stay with you for the rest of your life. It's fantastic to see so many young people so actively involved in choosing the books to go forward, and clearly getting so much pleasure from books.

"I know what makes this award extra special for the shortlisted authors is that it is the young readers themselves who choose the winner, the young people they are actually writing for, and this means so much to them.

"I really hope that they enjoy reading these shortlisted books to decide on their overall winner, and that their love of reading continues."

A total of 63 books were nominated this year and the young judges have been reading them since September to decide which to shortlist.

The 24-pupil judging panel was assisted by last year's winning author, Natalie Flynn.

Hotter shoes announce Marie Curie as first official charity partner

Report by Henry James

Sam Stapleton, Louise Tyrer, Deb Harrison, Marta Mijzczak, Jade Foley from Hotter with the new shoes

HOTTER Shoes has announced Marie Curie as its first official charity partner.

And the Skelmersdale-based footwear chain will celebrate the partnership by launching a limited edition Mabel shoe with a signature Marie Curie daffodil print inspired by the cancer charity's iconic emblem.

For every pair of the Daffodil shoes sold £20 will go to Marie Curie helping to fund an hour of Marie Curie nursing care for someone living with a terminal illness.

The shoe is available to buy from all Hotter stores nationwide and online at Hotter.com to mark the launch of Marie Curie's Great Daffodil Appeal, the charity's biggest annual fundraiser.

A spokeswoman for Hotter said: "Created in Hotter's popular Mabel design, the Daffodil shoe is practical, pretty and perfect for the transitional season.

"Made from premium canvas material with lightweight, shock-absorbing soles, Hotter's everyday shoe is the perfect way to donate, wear the daffodil and show support for Marie Curie all season long." Sara Prowse, Hotter CEO, commented: "We're delighted to have partnered with Marie Curie, a fantastic charity doing amazing work to support people living with a terminal illness.

"To celebrate the partnership our designers have created a limited edition Daffodil shoe, which will go on sale in March and from which, £20 from every pair sold will go direct to Marie Curie."

Throughout 2018, Hotter stores and staff will be aiming to raise as much money as possible for the charity by taking part in fundraising danceathons, cycle races and tea parties.

Marie Curie are dedicated to helping people living with a terminal illness and their families make the most of the time they have together by delivering expert hands-on care, as well as providing emotional and practical support.

Money raised by the charity helps them to provide this care and support while also helping to fund research and campaign for better ways of providing end-of-life care.

The Hotter spokeswoman added: "Hotter are proud to collaborate with and contribute to Marie Curie's work in caring for people who are terminally ill by offering their customers the chance to not only help the charity with a donation but also proudly show their support with their shoes."

Care home joins scheme to help disabled people in workplace

A SKELMERSDALE-BASED care home has been accepted onto a major national scheme to help support and develop disabled people or those with long-term health conditions in the workplace.

Birch Green Care Home, Ivydale, is committed to the Disability Confident scheme to 'positively change attitudes, behaviours and cultures towards employing people who may find it challenging to find work due to health-related issues.'

Virginia Perkins, director for people and organisational development at Springhill Care Group - operators of Birch Green Care Home, said: "Being a Disability Confident committed care home endorses our aim to ensure we proactively offer employment opportunities to disabled people and those with long term health conditions.

"Our aim at Birch Green is to help individuals fulfil their potential and realise their aspirations within a work environment."

The Disability Confident scheme has been running since November 2016 and has helped more than 5,000 companies to create a more inclusive workforce.

The Lord High Sheriff, Robert Webb at the armed forces café in Leyland

Veterans from the town visit armed forces cafe in Leyland

MEMBERS of the Skelmersdale Veteran's Association visited the armed forces café in Leyland.

Serving personnel, members from the TA and veterans, all attended.

The Lord High Sheriff, Robert Webb, was also present and met up with Skelmersdale veterans, Jimmy Matthews and Paul Mosquito who had served under him.

Meanwhile the veterans fundraised at the Asda in Skelmersdale on February 23 and 24. They want to thank all the shoppers who supported them.

The veterans will be marking the 100 year anniversary of the end of World War One this year. They will be visiting primary schools and care homes in Skelmersdale and West Lancashire. They have a collection of uniforms from both world wars which they exhibit.

The veterans are also organising their third show, which will be held on July 14, 15 at Blaguegate playing fields on Railway Road in Old Skelmersdale. The show is being organised by Steve Ryan and Mike Cerrigan.

Anyone who wants more information about the show should contact Steve, Mike and Alan Moore at svasec@outlook.com or to ring the chairman Alan Lewis on 07939 660048.

The association are looking forward to the Armed Forces Day at Llandudno on Saturday, June 30. Alan Lewis said: "I'm delighted that the national Armed Forces Day event will return to Wales in 2018.

"This time we will see veterans of wars gone by and soldiers serving in conflicts around the world, marching side by side in Llandudno, united in pride, serving in their country.

"In Wales we have a special connection with our Armed Forces and this annual event gives the public an opportunity to show their appreciation and pride for our soldiers, sailors and air personnel, plus cadets who sacrifice so much for others.

"Our debt of gratitude also extends to the families they leave behind and the veterans past and present who have dedicated years of their lives to service.

"I will be honoured to mark Armed Forces Day in their company."

Martin Mere news

The award winning canoe safari and boat tours at WWT Martin Mere Wetland Centre are re-opening on Saturday 24 March, offering adults and children lots of fun exploring the wetland through open water, woodlands, wet grassland and reedbed as well as seeing the wildlife that call the canoe safari home.

As well as the canoe safari, the pond zone is also re-opening on 24 March offering the families the chance to delve into our ponds and see what creatures they can find lurking beneath the surface. This is a free activity open everyday of the Easter holidays from 11am – 12.30pm and 1.30pm to 3pm.

Victoria Fellowes, Marketing Manager, said: "Just 8 years ago, the area that is now the canoe safari was a large field that we once grazed sheep on. It is amazing to see how it has matured and we have created fantastic habitat that species such as kingfisher, heron, little grebe and watervoles have made their home; and you can get great sightings of these species as well as carp, moorhen and robin as well as listening to the sound of woodpeckers and bird calls. It is one of the most popular experiences we offer at Martin Mere in the spring and summer and a fantastic opportunity for people of all ages to get immersed in nature in a tranquil relaxing atmosphere."

Take our guided boat tour learning all about Martin Mere whilst listening to our knowledgeable staff and volunteers tell you all about the amazing scenery and wildlife as well as the history of Martin Mere. You could also take a self guided tour of the wetland in one of the canoes, taking your time to enjoy all the scenery that Martin Mere has to offer.

Canoes can hold up to three people and cost £8.00 for the hour rental; the guided boat tour is available from £3.00 per person for a 30 minute guided tour. The boats seat 8 people and can also accommodate 2 wheelchairs.

There are no age restrictions to go on the canoe safari, although the person must be able to fit into the supplied life jacket. Children under 18 must be accompanied by an adult. The attraction will be open every day from 11am to 4pm.

WWT Martin Mere is still looking for volunteers to support the canoe safari and pond dipping activities at the centre – search WWT volunteer online to find out more and make an application.

WWT Martin Mere is open every day from 9.30am to 4.30pm (6pm from 24 March) and parking is free of charge. Situated off the A59, it is signposted from the M61, M58 and M6. The Centre is also accessible via the Southport to Manchester and the Liverpool to Preston line by train from Burscough Rail Stations. Visit the web site http://www.wwt.org.uk/martinmere/ to find out what's on all year round at Martin Mere and the other eight centres.

Council plans to set up new development company for borough

Report by Kenny Parker

It will... 'help generate income for the authority through Council Tax and Business Rates to support front-line services and more exciting projects'

WEST Lancs Council is planning to form a new development company to help the authority deliver ambitious and exciting projects for local people.

The council has worked on several successful major projects for housing, and for commerce, including in Firbeck, Skelmersdale, the current Westec development in Ormskirk, and the Greenwood Business Centre, Skelmersdale.

The new company will do a number of things including building new homes for sale and rent and shared ownership houses, which are geared towards helping people take their first steps towards home ownership.

At its meeting on February 28 the council's cabinet agreed to progress the project and agreed an implementation plan which could see the company go live in autumn this year, provided all final arrangements are approved by the council.

Councillor Ian Moran, leader of the council and portfolio holder for Economic Regeneration, said: "By setting up the company, initially in shadow format, the council will be making significant progress towards this key project.

Council leader Labour Councillor Ian Moran.

"One of the council's top priorities is to be ambitious for the local economy by developing commercial and residential property. This would help support new and growing businesses, retain and grow jobs and increase the number of residents in the area.

"The development company will help the council achieve that and generate income for the authority through Council Tax and Business Rates to support front-line services and more exciting projects."

To development company will be given key objectives. These include:

- Creating a focus on delivery and providing a mechanism for the council to build new homes for sale and rent, regeneration and commercial and industrial schemes.
- Securing additional private and Government investment into the borough.
- Creating relationships with landowners, developers and investors which deliver financial and regeneration benefits.
- Maximising appropriate development and accelerating growth by providing property and commercial expertise.

The cabinet decision is subject to the council's call-in process and its anticipated that a report to councillors in the autumn will seek the final approval for this project.

Health experts are keeping us on our feet, says MP

Rosie backs campaign to highlight unique role of podiatrists

MP Rosie Cooper joined the College of Podiatry in Parliament to give her backing to the launch of a new report.

The event highlighted the unique role of podiatrists in tackling some of the biggest healthcare challenges facing people in West Lancashire.

The report, 'Podiatry: Driving value, improving outcomes - The vital role of podiatry in keeping our population active – saving lives and saving limbs' covers three key areas in which podiatrists contribute their expertise and demonstrate their value. They are: 1. Diabetes and vascular disease, specifically foot ulceration and amputation prevention, conditions which costs the NHS around £1 billion per year. 2. Falls prevention, particularly among the elderly, which costs the NHS and social care around £2.3bn every year, and rising. 3. Musculoskeletal conditions, which consume around 5% of the NHS budget.

The report has found that early intervention by local podiatrists has the potential to improve mobility and independence in people who experience foot health problems.

Despite the strong recommendation from NICE, the organisation responsible for producing clinical guidance, a Freedom of Information Request carried out in 2017 (with a response rate of 87%) found that 29% of Clinical Commissioning Groups do not commission a foot protection service.

A further FOI sent to hospital trusts revealed that a third of trusts which responded do not operate a dedicated falls prevention team, and of the 67% that do, only 4% include a podiatrist in that team.

Supporters say podiatrists are under-utilised across the health and care system, avoiding critical chances to tackle problems before they escalate.

Rosie Cooper MP

West Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper said: "I support Podiatry and its vital role in prevention and improving outcomes for patients.

"It is important to recognise the value of local podiatrists who are working day-in-day-out to keep people on their feet, living life independently and to its full potential.

"I would like to thank all podiatrists, and others working in multidisciplinary health and care teams across West Lancashire for their professional care and support."

Youngster sets his sights on snapping wildlife...

...and the results are simply stunning!

A BUDDING teenage David Attenborough has not let the recent cold snap hold him back from his burgeoning talent as a wildlife photographer.

Champion reader Liam Barber, 13, saved up for a Sony camera, which he bought in January after years of taking photographs of wildlife on his camera phone.

He has taken stunning photographs of birds and animals during the last few weeks, including robins, otters, squirrels, swans and ducks...and even a kingfisher.

His sister Sasha Barber said: "We are so proud of Liam, he is so talented. He's just been getting used to the camera but already the photographs that he is taking are stunning."

Stage is set for musicians to show off their talent!

Report by Kenny Parker

A MUSIC company has launched a competition for budding young musicians in Sefton and West Lancs to battle it out for a chance to spend a day at its professional recording studio.

The contest which will take place at Ormskirk Civic Hall on Friday, June 22 is open to anyone aged 7-17 years old, whether soloist, duo or band and will have two age categories. from approximately 7-12 and 13-17.

The organiser, Sound Affects, says entrants can perform either covers, or their own original material.

Studio supervisor and events coordinator, Rosa Weiner, says the acts will receive constructive feedback from the judges, which will allow them to assess their performance and work on the proposed improvements, in order for them to become more confident musicians, regardless of how far they do or don't progress in the competition.

"We believe it is a brilliant opportunity for those who have always dreamed of having the chance to perform on stage, for those who study music and also for students who simply have a passion for performing," Rosa said.

Sound Affects has two branches; an Ormskirk branch which is home to Sound Affects Premier, a guitar shop selling a wide ranch of high end guitars, opposite which is the main teaching hub and music studio; and an Aintree branch which also has a range of guitars and a smaller teaching hub.

The top prize for winning the 'battle of the bands' is a day spent recording at the Ormskirk studio. Other prizes will include free music lessons at the company's teaching facilities while there will be individual prizes for 'best vocalist', 'all round performer' and 'star of the show'.

Ed Cuss teaching drums at the Aintree Sound Affects store.

Participants will also be offered optional mentored sessions at a cost of £30 per hour, where the students will receive technical advice, performance techniques and encouragement.

Acts must apply by Friday, March 30 with auditions taking place on April 10, 12, and 14. Applications cost £10 per act. Visit www.soundaffectsmusic.com/battle-of-the-bands-2018-i227 to apply.

Staff and residents at Parklands Lodge with visitors from the YMCA Nursery

Young and old unite at special care home hub

Report by Kenny Parker

A CARE group's hub has launched a new initiative which seeks to unite the oldest and youngest in the community.

The Athena Health Care Group, who own a number of homes across Sefton and West Lancs, launched their Community Activities Hub to unite older people's services and groups last year to promote sharing inspirational ideas with activity co-ordinators from care providers across the North West.

They also hold joint activity sessions at the Hub's care homes as well as 'meaningful' days out as part of their Ageing Well initiative.

They launched their new initiative last week, 'Care Home Awareness for the Younger Generation' at Parklands Lodge Care Home, in Southport, with youngsters from YMCA Nursery in Southport.

It aims to help the younger generation feel more at ease when visiting an older relative at a home.

Lesley Malone, events organiser for the group, said: "YMCA Nursery children aged three-four visited us to launch the initiate as part of a six-month project to work together.

"Over the next six months all of our homes will be taking photographs and quotes from residents and at the end of the period, Athena Health Care Group will create a booklet to put forward to the local education authority, which the nursery has kindly offered to help with.

"YMCA Nursery children will be coming into Parklands Lodge doing activities with the residents and staff alongside the education curriculum.

"One of our residents, former schoolteacher Marjorie Robinson, who used to be a school teacher, will also be helping with this initiative as she brings a wealth of experience from her previous occupation.

"We will record how the children have been engaging and how our residents participate with activities. We would like the younger generation to grow up knowing all about the caring environment homes as we are all living longer and this is the future for ageing well!"

Helen McGreavy from the YMCA Nursery said: "We are pleased to be working with Parklands Lodge to supporting the initiative.

"We are passionate about building positive relationships and this is a fantastic opportunity for the children to engage with different members of our local community."

Libraries set to get creative!

LANCASHIRE libraries are taking part in a national festival aimed at inspiring and encouraging everyone to have a go at being creative.

All of the county's libraries will be taking part in the UK-wide Get Creative 2018 festival from Saturday, March 17 to Sunday, March 25.

Activities and taster sessions celebrating everyday creativity include painting, knitting, embroidery, Lego creations, jewellery making, doodling and singing.

Taking part in the majority of the events will be free though some could have a small charge to cover the costs of the materials to be used.

The Get Creative Festival is delivered in partnership with cultural organisations including the BBC, Arts Council England, Crafts Council, and Voluntary Arts.

County Councillor Peter Buckley, Lancashire County Council's cabinet member for community and cultural services, said: "The festival will encourage people to find out how to get creative on their doorstep and give people the chance to try something different from the various hands-on events we've got on offer.

"There's also the opportunity for people to step out of their comfort zone and try something new.

"I'm pleased that all our libraries are taking part in this. Wherever you live in the county there will be something creative on offer."

You can call in at your local library to find out more information about Get Creative, and the events and activities that are taking place.

Parking change is great for town

It's so motivational to see our West Lancashire Borough Council listening to the town's entrepreneurs.

The newly agreed car park charging strategy will be a massive boost for us town centre businesses, 'two-hour time pressure' on shoppers and visitors will be a thing of the past.

Coming to town will be a better experience, encouraging fuller enjoyment of the place we all love.

Great work, and credit where it's due.

Council tax system should be based on percentage value of property

Now that the 2018/9 council tax charges have been released I'm sure we will see the usual letters of complaint.

The increase is entirely due to the government slashing the amount of money they give to local authorities.

With this increase in council tax local services such as local bus services will still be reduced.

This is the disgraceful policy of this government reducing resources, for example, the police trying to put the blame of reduced services on local councils.

Typical of this policy is the announcement three years ago by former Chancellor of the Exchequer George Osborne that rents on council houses are to be reduced by 1% per year.

The reason for this was that local authorities would receive less money but the government would pay less in housing benefits.

I live in a Band F property and my council tax will be £2,530 which is about 0.6% of the value of my residence which I consider to be a fair amount.

However the whole system of council tax ought to be changed with a tax based on the percentage of the value of a property with no upper limit.

It is an absolute disgrace the properties in the most expensive areas of London some worth over £100million only pay council tax of £1,200.

Also there should be no exemption, as at present, for student households and single occupied houses should not pay reduced tax.

JM Berry,
Aughton

People who have Parkinson's are being mistreated

In recent weeks we have heard an alarming number of stories about people with Parkinson's being misunderstood or mistreated by the staff of public-facing businesses across the UK.

Parkinson's is a progressive neurological condition. This means that it causes problems in the brain and gets worse over time.

Parkinson's affects everyone differently, but the main symptoms are tremor (shaking), slowness of movement, and rigidity (muscle stiffness).

Other symptoms can also include depression, anxiety, hallucinations, memory problems and dementia.

Lack of public understanding can make simple things like getting the bus, paying at a checkout or even going for a coffee with friends daunting for people with Parkinson's.

To make matters worse, Parkinson's UK research shows one in every four people have had their condition confused for drunkenness, and one in ten have been laughed at in public due to their symptoms.

We also know that one in three people with Parkinson's have felt the need to cover up their symptoms, because they're not seen as socially acceptable. This is completely unacceptable. It's time to change.

Parkinson's UK has created a free and easily accessible Parkinson's in your workplace training package and, via an open letter, the charity is calling on all businesses to roll out the training and make sure their staff understand Parkinson's and can support their customers' needs.

To join the campaign and call for businesses to better understand Parkinson's, visit www.parkinsons.org.uk/UFP

Together we can raise awareness and make society more understanding of Parkinson's.

Steve Ford,
Chief executive of Parkinson's UK

Privileged to have an amazing A&E

I write in reply to Disappointed of Skelmersdale's letter about hospital A&E.

Whilst I fully appreciate that it is not ideal having to travel to Southport for treatment I am shocked that the writer wants those with young babies and children to make the longer more difficult journey instead.

I feel privileged to have such an amazing children's A&E department on our doorstep and hope that it will always continue to be there.

Local councils should look at how East Hampshire operates

Lancashire County Council will be raising its part of the council tax by 2.99% plus a further 3% for social care services, ie, 5.99% in total.

Those lucky enough to have occupational pensions, and many workers, may see an inflation-linked increase of only around 3%; many others will see no increase in their annual income.

They introduced a green bin charge of £30 last year which was opposed by residents and four years ago the role of chief executive was abolished, with his workload then shared by his two deputies, one of whose posts was subsequently abolished.

Ever increasing council tax bills need not be the way forward.

East Hampshire District Council have had no cuts to frontline services and no increases in council tax for seven years.

The magic formula - a hard-headed senior executive, previously at Mars, who has overseen a diversified and successful investment of council funds, cost pruning and the chief executive being hired out to neighbouring Havant Council.

I hope our senior council officials take not.

I'm not keen on petition to park

IN reference to Mr Miller's online petition for a parking permit in Stiles car park in Ormskirk (Champion, February 21).

I'm sure the inconvenience of having to drive around the one-way system is also a hindrance to his daily life.

Why not start a petition so he can drive through the town centre to park up too!

Residents invited to have a say on how to run council services

RESIDENTS, community groups and businesses are being invited to give their views on West Lancashire Borough Council services and make suggestions on how the authority should make reductions in spending or increase income.

A number of residents have been sent a letter inviting them to take part in the 2018 Citizens Survey and give their opinions so they can help influence decisions that will be taken by the council. Instructions in the letter tell the recipients how they can complete the survey.

Everyone living in West Lancashire can take part in the survey, even if they have not received a letter inviting them to do so.

There is also a Stakeholder Survey 2018 at www.westlancs.gov.uk/cssurvey which community groups and businesses are encouraged to complete and make their voices heard.

Only one response can be accepted on behalf of each organisation. If any members of organisations wish to give their views as individual residents they can do so via the Citizen Survey.

Cllr Ian Moran, leader of the council, said: "We encourage as many residents, tenants, community groups, organisations and businesses as possible to take this opportunity to give their views on these important issues."

Paper copies of both surveys can be requested by contacting the customer engagement team on 01695 585216 or calling at the customer service points in Ormskirk or Skelmersdale.

Invitation to attend U3A

SKELMERSDALE has a small and thriving branch of U3A who meet in the Ecumenical Centre on Thursday at 2.15pm.

At tomorrow's meeting (Thursday, March 15) the speaker will be Norman Harris with a talk titled China – A Presentation.

U3A leaders hoped that this will be a "wonderful introduction", especially to a small group of members who will be going to the China's First Emperor and the Terracotta Warriors exhibition in Liverpool in May.

At the next meeting on April 19, the group will hear about the problems of Plastics in the World's Oceans with Christine Gaze, of the Lancashire Wildlife Trust. Everyone is welcome to the meetings and there is there is an entrance fee of £1.

The meeting follows the Junk Food Café Lunch.

Members of Sporting Challenge. Edward McCarthy far right.

Sporting charity is having a ball after cash boost reward

Report by Kenny Parker

SPORTING Challenge, which works with young people across West Lancashire, has been given a £2,000 cash boost.

The charity, which is based in Burscough but serves all of West Lancashire, organises fitness activities for young people and adults with learning disabilities.

It was given £2,000 towards its work from Lancashire County Council.

The charity is one of seven from the area which will share £11,000 worth of grants.

County Councillor Susie Charles, Cabinet Member for Children, Young People and Schools, said: "These groups play a crucial role in local communities and I'm pleased to provide these grants, which help them continue their vital role supporting young people across the county.""

Edward McCarthy, Sporting Challenge activities co-ordinator, said: "On behalf of Sporting Challenge I wish to thank Lancashire County Council for their most generous Young People's Grant.

"Our numbers are growing and the majority of new members are aged 16-22.

"This is a key area we need to support. This number is set to grow over the years to come.

"We are working with Lancashire County Council to provide support/sessions for adults transition aged (16-22) this can be a difficult time for the adults and their families.

"There is a lot of change and they can easily move from school or college and not keep their friendships.

"Our group can help people make new friends, grow in confidence and keep fit and healthy. If you are a parent who is interested please get in touch!"

You can contact Edward on 07971 299606 for more information.

Lancashire's Police and Crime Commissioner joined Lancashire Constabulary to celebrate the achievements of several apprentices.

Police commissioner awards apprentices

Report by Henry James

LANCASHIRE'S Police and Crime Commissioner, Clive Grunshaw, has met with Lancashire Constabulary apprentices to praise them on the work they do across the organisation.

The event, held at police headquarters in Hutton to mark National Apprenticeship Week, celebrated apprentices who work across the constabulary in a range of police staff roles, as they received their certificates after completing business administration qualifications at various levels.

Clive Grunshaw, Lancashire Police and Crime Commissioner said: "I'm really pleased that this event provided an opportunity to meet a number of apprentices who are making a real difference across the force here in Lancashire, hearing about the work they do in their day to day roles and how they have benefited from the experience.

"My office always looks to offer young people the opportunity of apprenticeships wherever possible, with many then going on to further their careers both in and out of policing.

"My Social Value policy outlines our approach to spending money to ensure as much value remains in the Lancashire area, which also encourages the creation of apprenticeships as I know the benefit this can bring across our communities.

"Apprenticeships provide a great opportunity for those who want to take an alternative path into policing, working across the Constabulary and make an impact in the roles that they are in, whilst developing key skills which will benefit their long term careers."

Victor Robinson, head of people services at Lancashire Police said: "We are extremely proud of our apprentices and what they have achieved. Not only have they developed their skills and abilities as apprentices but they have also made a valuable contribution within Lancashire Police."

MP offers support for terminally ill employees

Report by Henry James

WEST Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper has made a commitment to support and protect employees who become terminally ill by signing the TUC 'Dying to Work' charter.

Since its launch in April 2016, The TUC's 'Dying to Work' Voluntary Charter now protects over half a million employees with companies such as Legal and General, Santander, Co-Op, Rolls Royce, Royal Mail and E.On signing up along with a number of public sector bodies including NHS trusts, police constabularies and many local authorities.

The Dying to Work campaign was set up following the case of Jacci Woodcook, a 58-year-old sales manager from Derbyshire, who was forced out of her job after being diagnosed with terminal breast cancer.

The campaign is calling for a change in the law to prevent the same thing happening to other working people.

West Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper said: "It is shocking to think that if people with terminal illnesses are dismissed or forced out of their jobs that their loved ones will lose the death in service payments that the employee has planned for and earned through a lifetime of hard work. That is why I am proud to have signed the TUC's 'Dying to Work' charter to protect employees and I will be encouraging businesses in my constituency to follow suit and sign up to the TUC's voluntary charter.

"In addition, I hope something will soon be done to ensure that every individual with terminal illness will receive the protection and support they deserve."

The campaign has also been endorsed by a number of trade unions and charities, including The National Council for Palliative Care, Hospice UK, Breast Cancer Care and Second Hope.

TUC Deputy General Secretary Paul Nowak said:"Serious illness is tough enough without having to put up with extra hassle at work. Everyone can surely agree that terminally-ill workers deserve protection.

"That's why unions, MPs, employers and charities are coming together to ensure that workers get the support and protections they need when times are toughest."

Dog trainers want to set tails wagging at show!

Caroline and Adrian of K92000.

Report by Kenny Parker

A HUSBAND and wife dog training team were all ears and quick to respond when called upon to provide headline entertainment at an upcoming dog festival at Liverpool's Exhibition Centre.

Caroline and Adrian Slater, from Ormskirk, have been asked to put on a show at Dog Mania, organised by Merseyside Dogs Home, which is the only indoor show in the UK where owners can take their dogs along to join in the shows and activities.

Taking place over the March 31 and April 1 weekend, the event will feature competitions, a market, health checks, expert pet advice, photo-shoots, grooming and "a doggie chill-out zone".

There will also be shows and on the Saturday Caroline and Adrian will display their two dog teams K92000 and Kipperridge Gundogs.

K92000 Dog Training and Agility Centre, based at Asmall Livery Stables on Asmall Lane, Ormskirk, has been established for 20 years and offers puppy and advanced classes to customers from Merseyside and West Lancashire area. While Kipperidge Gundogs provides training for owners who want to enter their dogs into competitions, work in the field or just to make the most of their natural ability.

Being asked to provide a display at Dog Mania is just one of many high profile events that they have been called upon to help with.

Their dog display teams regularly perform at Crufts in Birmingham and last year they put on a show before the Prince of Wales and Duchess of Cornwall at the Sandringham Flower Show.

Caroline said: "Sandringham was nerve racking. That had to be right as we had a lot of people watching, we had a lot of big names there. Charles and Camilla came and they opened the show. They came through the main gates in a horse and carriage and we were on just ten minutes afterwards.

"It went well though and we had some very positive feedback."

K92000 has performed at the Southport Flower show and also at a Churches Together Park Praise event held two years ago in Ormskirk.

This year, Caroline says, Kipperidge Gundogs will perform at the Southport Flower Show and K92000 has also been asked to provide a display for another Park Praise event in Ormskirk.

About Dog Mania, she said: "It is a privilege to be asked to take part, especially with it being a local event. Just as it was a privilege to be asked to do Sandringham.

"We expect to put on a really good entertaining show."

Council's bright idea could save millions

A SCHEME to replace 38,000 streetlights with LEDs, saving the county nearly £2million per year, has been approved by Lancashire County Council's cabinet.

The £9.2m project, which will begin in April 2018 and be completed in November 2020, is the final part of plans to replace all of the county's older, less efficient streetlights with cutting edge, energy saving LEDs.

It follows a three-year scheme which has already seen 87,000 traditional streetlights replaced with LEDs.

County Councillor Keith Iddon, cabinet member for highways and transport, said: "By replacing these streetlights with LEDs, we'll save £1.8m every year once the project is complete.

"We've already replaced 87,000 of the older style street lights and this scheme will see us replace a further 38,000 streetlights with more efficient LED lights.

"All of the county's streets will be lit by LEDs by November 2020.

"This scheme is a key part of our plans to improve energy efficiency, lower energy bills and reduce carbon emissions.""

Medal glory for martial arts team

MEMBERS of the Ormskirk Shotokan Karate Club produced medal-winning performances in the England Shotokan Championships in Windsor.

Black belts, Mark Warren and Michael Clayton-Brown, competed against rivals from across the country in both kata (a composition of stylized karate moves carried out to a set routine) and solo kumite (sparring), before joining clubmate and fellow black belt, Andrew Durney, in the team kumite.

Although eliminated from the kata in the early stages, the solo and team kumite saw the local trio shine with Mark, taking silver in the solo event, before helping his colleagues to claim a battling bronze in the team event.

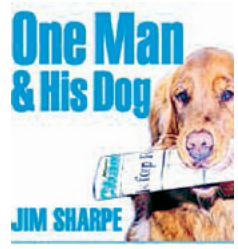
Popeye was right - you are what you are and that's all that you are

I AM a great supporter of Popeye the Sailor Man - and his famous line - "I am what I am and that's all that I am."

He knew alright - he was Popeye the Sailor Man.

These days of course he would be forgiven if he wasn't quite so sure - though the prospect of Popeye wearing a skirt is not one I'd like to contemplate.

So I reckon my old cartoon hero would have been as an irritated as I was when I heard a discussion on a TV political programme about whether or not youngsters at school should, as part of their school uniform, be allowed to choose whether to wear trousers or skirts, irrespective of which sex they nominally belonged to.



Of course, a very earnest young woman started spouting about 'tolerance' and 'diversity.'

Now please do not misunderstand me. I am not in any way trying to denigrate those who need to change their gender.

But I don't think this argument does their cause any good at all. The opposite in fact.

To be clear, I think this was a rather trivial discussion being blown up by those who perpetrated it about a 'proble" that does not exist.

Apparently the Liberal Democrats, tired of such things as Brexit or the economy, are now calling on all schools to adopt a 'gender neutral' policy for school uniforms so as not to upset those of a transgender disposition.

Now I know the Lib Dems have, rightly, adopted very strong policies designed to stop bullying at school. This is a truly laudable ambition, though one I fear could never totally be achieved.

And to suggest that if Tommy, who up 'till now wore trousers just like all of his contemporaries, should one day turn up at school wearing a skirt for a change without being a bullying target, then I am afraid they have rather over-estimated the tolerance of certain members of our society.

Of course, I don't suppose this would be what they mean at all. I think they mean that all pupils, boys and girls, should wear trousers.

I have nothing against that in itself. Girls and women have worn trousers regularly for many years.

My mum did for just about everything apart from formal occasions when the dress or skirt seemed to her more appropriate.

But about 'diversity.' Suppose a girl chooses to wear a skirt with a blouse and uniform school blazer? Is she to be told that trousers are compulsory? And if so, isn't that in itself intolerant?

Why on earth should anybody, and perhaps political parties in particular, feel it necessary to poke their noses into something which can surely be best handled by the school itself?

And where would it stop? At the bottom perhaps. Should all pupils of either gender or none, wear the same sort of shoes? Or perhaps a nice pair of trainers which are, I think, more or less unisex?

One of the reasons for wearing a school uniform in the first place is to place each pupil on a level footing - it certainly isn't to provide instant amusement for the local yobos.

When I was at secondary school, we boys all wore grey shirts and short trousers until, I think, we were in the fifth form when we changed like butterflies into long trousers and white shirts (with at first detachable collars!)

And until then we were told, on pain of a visit to the headmaster, that school caps should be worn at all times outside school - including on the school buses each morning and evening.

Naturally this was roundly ignored - though one's cap was always kept crushed into a pocket somewhere in case anybody noticed.

Well, I mean, how could one keep one's dignity if you had just sneaked out for a crafty cigarette in the park - but wearing a cap?

Not that the school had much tolerance to our diversity - which was of course precisely just what their attitude should have been.

It was called 'School Rules' and frankly I think we would have felt a loss if a more 'tolerant' attitude had prevailed.

Perhaps Popeye was indeed right.

You are what you are and that's all that you are - but sometimes you need to be mature enough simply to fit in to a given situation - whatever you are.

Children help kick off school games

Report by Kenny Parker

PUPILS from across West Lancashire have celebrated the launch of this year's SPAR Lancashire School Games at a fun-filled event attended by Team GB race walker and world record holder Tom Bosworth.

Pupils from Westhead Lathom St James CE Primary School gathered at Preston-based James Hall & Company Ltd in preparation for months of sporting competitions alongside the school games mascot, the Lancashire Lion.

Organised by Lancashire Sport Partnership, the SPAR Lancashire School Games comprises a series of inclusive sporting events that provides competitive opportunities for all school children across the county.

More than 3,500 children from schools across Lancashire's 15 districts will now battle it out for a place at the county finals in 16 sports including gymnastics, football, athletics, mixed cricket and touch rugby.

To mark the programme launch, Tom Bosworth gave the children an inspiring speech about his career, sharing an insight into how sport has changed his life.

Tom said: "Any campaign or organisation that gets children interested in sport is priceless. I was introduced to professional sport by being influenced to get involved with athletics at a young age and I have never looked back. It has completely altered the course of my life, so if the school games programme influences just one child to take up sport, it will all be worth it."

Chris Hart, school games organiser for West Lancashire, said: "It is a pleasure to see so many children from West Lancashire involved with the annual SPAR Lancashire School Games.

"Thanks to James Hall & Company Ltd, the Lancashire School Games just keep evolving. This year an additional 1,500 children will participate, with more sports such as quick sticks and quad kids added to the timetable too."

Help at hand for digital novices

DO you need help with a laptop? Your tablet? Your phone? Or want to learn how to do online shopping or use Facebook?

Local charity Timesavers is providing a help desk at Four Lane Ends Mission, Skelmersdale Rd, Bickerstaffe, for residents of Bickerstaffe and the surrounding areas.

Edward McCarthy, Timesavers' work co-ordinator, says: "We had very popular sessions in February and are now continuing in March and April, despite the two snow days we have had! Come along to our session and we will help you learn new skills.

"They'll be every Thursday afternoon 2 to 4pm at the Four Lane Ends Mission - sessions are free, but folk are most welcome to donate to Timesavers."

Timesavers is a small parent run charity providing training and work experience in office and computer skills for people with moderate learning difficulties. It is looking for local employers to offer short periods of office work experience, one or two mornings per week, for the people we support to give them an insight into the world of work.

If you can help, email westlancsedward@btinternet.com or call 07971 299606.

WIN! tickets to see Disney on Ice

The Champion has five family passes to give away to readers

A scene from Disney On Ice

DISNEY on Ice is returning to Liverpool for another fun-filled family spectacular.

And the Champion has five family tickets for the show to give away.

Enter the dazzling world of Disney magic, live on ice! Rev up for non-stop fun with four of your favourite Disney stories as Disney On Ice presents 'Worlds of Enchantment' which is coming to the Liverpool Arena from April 11-15

Thrill to high-speed stunts as Lightning McQueen, Mater and the crew of Disney/Pixar's Cars race across the ice like you've never seen before! Dive into adventure with Ariel in The Little Mermaid's enchanted undersea kingdom.

The toys are back in town when Buzz Lightyear, Woody, Jessie and the Toy Story gang escape from the rambunctious tots of Sunnyside Daycare in their most daring adventure ever! Plus, enter the wintry world of Arendelle with sisters Anna and Elsa and pals Olaf and Kristoff from Disney's Frozen, as they learn that true love comes from within. What's more, don't miss the chance to warm up at the Fit to Dance pre-show party!

From wheels to waves, icy wonderlands to infinity and beyond, your family's favourite Disney moments come to life at Disney On Ice presents Worlds of Enchantment.

To be in with a chance to win one of five family tickets to the opening show on Wednesday, April 11 answer the following question:-

Q. What year was Walt Disney born?

Answers on a postcard please to: Disney Competition, Champion Newspapers, 166 Lord Street, Southport PR9 OQA. Please incluse your full address and a daytime contact number. Closing date for entries is Friday, March 23 at 12 noon. Usual Champion competition rules apply. Editor's decision is final.

Sir Ken Dodd

Farewell to the 'tattifilarious' marathon man of comedy

Report by Henry James

TRIBUTES have been paid to the veteran comedian Sir Ken Dodd - the man who brought so much happiness to the people of West Lancashire.

Doddy died on Sunday, aged 90, at the Knotty Ash home where he was born and lived all his life.

The great entertainer's career spanned more than six decades, and he was famous for his tickling sticks, his "tattifilarious" comedy, the Diddymen from Knotty Ash and for hit records all over the world.

He died only a matter of days after returning to his Liverpool home from hospital, where he had been treated during the last six weeks for a chest infection.

Just last Friday he married Anne Jones, who had been his partner of 40 years.

His publicist Robert Holmes announced the comedian's death and said: "He passed away in the home that he was born in over 90 years ago. He's never lived anywhere else.

"With Ken gone, the lights have been turned out in the world of variety. He was a comedy legend and a genius."

Dodd made his professional debut in Nottingham in 1954.

In the following decades he became a regular on the stage, TV and radio. His shows were famous for lasting hours, although he always maintained that "he was giving value for money."

In 1989 he was charged with tax evasion, but was acquitted by a Liverpool jury.

Closer to home, many West Lancs residents will recall his visits to Southport - not just sell-out shows but his appearances in the town to switch on the Christmas lights.

A spokesman for Sefton Council said: "Sir Ken Dodd was one of Britain's funniest comedians and had strong links with Sefton.

"He regularly performed at Southport Theatre and Convention Centre entertaining thousands of people with his legendary shows.

"In 2008 he officially unveiled a £4million makeover of Southport's famous shopping boulevard, Lord Street, and was in the resort in 2015 as he paid tributes to his friend, Phil King - Sefton Council's former Chief Tourism and Attractions officer.

"He was a one-off comedian and will be sadly missed."

Lisa Chu, general manager at Southport theatre added: "The team at the Southport Theatre and Convention Centre are truly saddened by the news of Sir Ken's death over the weekend.

"He and his wife Anne were great friends of the venue with relationships built over many years when he performed at least twice a year in the Southport Theatre.

"We are proud to have been one of Ken's favourite venues and we feel privileged to have known both him and Anne personally over the years.

"Not only was Sir Ken a true comedy genius who literally made hundreds of thousands of guests laugh, sing and leave every show with a spring in their step, he was genuinely a lovely caring person, a true professional and a great deal of fun to be around.

"He was loved by everyone who had the pleasure to meet him and his dedicated wife Anne who was always at his side.

"The world has lost a true legend but his legacy will go on. It's impossible for anybody who has touched as many people's hearts as Ken Dodd, for him ever to be forgotten.

"Our thoughts, prayers and love go out to Anne and her family who we know will take comfort in the fact that Ken lived a full life and has had such a great positive impact on so many people over the years."

Professor Stephen Pratt

Professor to give his inaugural public lecture

COMPOSER, conductor and broadcaster Professor Stephen Pratt will give his inaugural public lecture at Edge Hill University tomorrow (Thursday, March 15.)

Taking place in the University's historic Hale Hall, Stephen will discuss his compositional techniques, focussing on his most recent piece, Symphonies of Time and Tide for the Royal Liverpool Philharmonic Orchestra (RLPO). Stephen's talk will be followed by a cello and piano recital from international soloist and RLPO Principal Cello Jonathan Aasgaard and pianist and director of Pixels Ensemble Ian Buckle.

The recital will set works by Stephen within a varied programme of music for cello and piano, including the Sonata by Debussy.

Stephen's longstanding association with the RLPO and its musicians has seen him premier over a dozen works for the full orchestra and its ensembles.

Stephen has written for The Guardian and Classical Music magazine and has presented shows on BBC Radio 3 and 4.

Stephen holds Emeritus Professorships in Music from Gresham College, London, and Liverpool Hope University. He became Professor of Music at Edge Hill University in the spring of 2016.

This event will take place at Hale Hall in Edge Hill University's Main Building from 5.30pm.

It is free to attend but places should be booked in advance.

Stephen teaches on programmes in Edge Hill's Performing Arts department.

Lifeguards needed for assault course

A FLOATING assault course which will soon arrive on Liverpool's waterfront needs full-time and part-time lifeguards to help keep people safe.

Adventure Dock, which is a 92-metre floating assault course, will operate throughout the summer months from May to October at Duke's Dock.

Potential new recruits will need excellent team working skills, as well as a pool or beach lifeguard qualification (NPLQ/NBLQ) and experience in previous customer facing roles.

As well as this, desired skills and qualifications include first aid training, a DBS certificate and a safeguarding certificate.

Tim Woodhead, creator of The Adventure Dock, said: "We are looking to recruit around 20 fun-loving but enthusiastic people to work as aqua guides this summer.

"We are currently a small but dedicated team and we want to make some life-long memories for both the customers and the staff. We are already busy with enquiries so we would love to hear from anyone who is up for the challenge to get the summer started now."

Part of the floating assault course

"As well as lifeguard work, Adventure Dock are also creating opportunities for long-term, full-time employment within the company, with admin and planning jobs also available throughout the off-season."

To register your interest, send your CV to hello@adventuredock.co.uk, with interviews taking place during the week commencing March 12.

Participants on the StarTrek fundraising event to raise funds for the Queenscourt Hospice

Early bird discount for Star Trekk participants

EARLY birds can catch a discounted rate to take part in the annual Star Trekk fundraising event in Southport!

Participants who sign up for the annual 8.5mile hike to raise funds for the Queenscourt Hospice before this Friday (March 16) can enjoy the lower rate of £12 (usually £15).

The walk is once again supported by Southport Pleasureland, which will be the start and finish of the event which takes place on Friday, May 18.

This year's Star Trekk run - an event which attracts participants from all over Sefton and West Lancashire - will set off on an exciting new route which travels around an 8.5 mile hike around Southport raising money for Queenscourt Hospice.

Now in its twelfth year, Star Trekk is the flagship event in Queenscourt's fundraising calendar and has raised more than £700,000 to date.

A spokesperson said: "This starlit stroll around the streets of Southport really is a fabulous night with a fantastic atmosphere and this year it's going to be better than ever!

"Everyone is welcome - men, women and children; some people use the walk as an opportunity to remember their loved ones with the route taking you past Queenscourt Hospice where the lights of love will be shinning out. Other people get involved to simply have a memorable night out and do their bit for charity."

● To sign up, visit queenscourt.org.uk/startrekk or to find out more, call 01704 517420 or email fundraising@queenscourt.org.uk

World Glaucoma Week
March 11–17, 2018

The focus for World Glaucoma Week 2018, from The International Glaucoma Association (IGA), is on the prevalence of glaucoma in the UK and Globally with an emphasis on the importance of regular eye health checks to detect glaucoma in the early stages.

The IGA recommends that everyone over the age of 40 should see an optician (optometrist) or medical specialist for an eye test every two years. This is particularly important for those who have a close relatives with glaucoma (brother, sister, parent or child), of African Caribbean and Asian origins, diabetic, have low blood pressure, or are short sighted.

Glaucoma is usually painless and does not cause symptoms until it is quite advanced. It is therefore important to have regular eye health checks which test for glaucoma at an early stage.

These tests are quick and painless and involve:

1. Looking at the appearance of the main nerve in the eye, called the optic nerve (ophthalmoscopy)
2. Measuring the pressure in the eye (tonometry)
3. Checking the field of vision (perimetry)

Consultant ophthalmic surgeon and glaucoma specialist, for iSIGHT Clinic, Southport and Aintree University Hospital, Mr Vincent Dubois, offers some insight on detecting and living with Glaucoma.

Unfortunately, there are no symptoms from early glaucoma. By the time a patient has symptoms, it is usually too late. This is why glaucoma has been described as the 'silent thief of sight'. It affects 600,000 in the UK and it is estimated that 76 million people globally will have glaucoma by 2020, making it the leading cause of irreversible blindness globally.

The safest way to protect ourselves from glaucoma is to regularly attend a local high-street Optician. Apart from prescribing and issuing glasses, an Optometrist can carry out tests to see whether a patient has Glaucoma.

Glaucoma is a disease of the optic nerve, the nerve that captures light and sends that light to the brain where an image is generated, giving you 'sight'. A diseased optic nerve does not see well and in some cases, patients can lose their sight from this condition. Those who are most at risk of Glaucoma are generally, the elderly, patients with Indian, Asian or African origins, and those who have a family member who is already affected by the disease.

The good news is glaucoma can be treated, we use eye drops, lasers and surgery to stop or slow down the condition. However, we cannot restore any sight already lost, hence the importance of early detection whilst people are free of any symptoms. 9 out of 10 patients do not need surgery.

A lot of patients ask, will it stop me from driving? The answer is, only if they have it in both eyes AND it is severe. It is the individual's responsibility to ensure that they meet DVLA requirements. A person must inform the DVLA if they have glaucoma in both eyes. In this instance the DVLA will arrange for them to have some further testing done, which will determine their eligibility to hold a UK Driving License. Class 2 license holders have more stringent requirements.

Remember, with early detection, from regular eye tests, and appropriate treatment very few patients have sight problems from Glaucoma. This is a condition that patients tend to live with, not suffer from. However, there are local support groups in place to help inform and educate people about the condition.

Specsavers' teams up-skill awareness in glaucoma - the silent thief of sight

In the build up to World Glaucoma Week this week, Specsavers teams have been up-skilling to better support patients with the condition.

Often symptomless in its early stages, glaucoma is the leading cause of irreversible sight loss. It is thought to affect 700,000 people in the UK today, but as many as 50% of cases are undiagnosed*.

In conjunction with the International Glaucoma Association, Specsavers has developed training for its retail teams to assist sufferers with their treatment. Specifically, they will be advising on how to effectively administer eye drops, which are crucial for managing the condition.

This new training complements the skills held by Specsavers' optometrists, who have collectively completed almost 5,000 postgraduate glaucoma accreditations since 2017, through a variety of accrediting bodies including Cardiff University and the College of Optometrists.

Alan Murphy was just 37 when a trip to Specsavers found the early stages of glaucoma. Thanks to early detection, his condition is now managed by using eye drops daily.

Alan, now an advocate of regular eye tests and good eye health, believes early diagnosis and careful management has saved his sight. He says: 'I would strongly urge people to go for regular eye tests, and to make the most of the advice and support provided by their local optician.'

Karen Osborn, chief executive of IGA, says: 'The majority of people who are diagnosed early with glaucoma will retain useful sight for life. Most will be treated with medical eye drops. Unfortunately we know from calls to our helpline that many people aren't told about how to put the drop in the eye correctly, or aren't advised about the aids that are available to help them. We are delighted to work with Specsavers on this often over-looked aspect of glaucoma management.'

Family of grocers bow out in style thanks to support

Report by Kenny Parker

Graham family (Philip, Stephen, Janet and Peter Beament) with Deputy Mayor Noel Delaney.

A POPULAR family of grocers have expressed their thanks for the overwhelming response they have recieved to news of their retirement.

The Graham family recently called time on their business on Liverpool Road North, Burscough, after 44 years of service to the community.

The business was founded by John Graham and his wife Elsie in 1974.

Though John died in 1985 and his wife Elise passed away in 2008, the business remained a family concern with Philip, 59, John, 66, (who stopped working there in the 1990s), Stephen, 62, and sister Janet, 68, and her husband Peter Beament, 68, taking over the running of it.

After announcing their retirement on Facebook, there was an outpouring of public affection and well wishes.

The family, who all live in Lathom, say they have also been inundated with cards, flowers and visits at the shop.

Even Deputy Mayor Councillor Noel Delaney took time out of his schedule to pay his respects, saying: "Grahams' has been so representative of the strong community that exists in Burscough. You mention Grahams', and Burscough comes to mind."

Contacting the Champion to let people know how grateful the Grahams are for all the cards, gifts and well wishes, Janet said: "We would like to thank all our customers and friends of the last 44 years.

"We have been overwhelmed by the generosity shown to us with all the flowers, and the amount of cards we have received was out of this world.

"We hope that we will see people out and about in the village."

Janet said that they closed the shop door for the final time after clearing it out on Monday, March 5.

In the week prior to closing she said they were very busy with customers wanting to buy their last Grahams' sandwich or cake.

The family don't know what kind of business will occupy the shop now, but Janet says she will still have plenty to do.

"I've got four men to look after so I think I will be busy!" she said, "Them and three grandchildren."

Members of McDonald Dance Academy with the presentation cheque from the National Lottery Fund.

Delighted dancers have a spring in their step!

MCDONALD Dance Academy have been given a spring in their step after receiving a cheque for £10,000 from the National Lottery Fund.

Maureen Park, owner of the dance club in Burscough, said the money will be used towards the renovation of a studio, new windows, toilets and music equipment. The Liverpool Road academy teaches a variety of styles, including ballroom, Latin American, classical and modern for both children and adults.

"We are very grateful to have received this money and looking forward to the new improvements," Maureen said.

Share memories of the RAF with the Champion

THE Royal Air Force will celebrate its centenary on April 1.

The World's First Independent Air Force was formed one hundred years ago when King George V authorised the creation of a new branch of the British military.

There are many events and celebrations planned to mark the 'RAF100' milestone and here at the Champion we would like to add our own special tribute.

We are appealing for any local stories and photographs, focusing on local people who have served in the RAF, both present day and during the past 100 years.

Have you served in the Royal Air Force?

Do you have any stories from your time there?

Do you have any family members who served and have stories?

Locally, RAF Woodvale, between Southport and Formby, has its own history to tell.

RAF Woodvale was opened in 1941 as a night fighter station for the defence of Liverpool and the docks after the city blitz in May.

The station closed in 1945 after a brief period of use by the Royal Navy.

In 1946 Spitfires of 611 Squadron reopened the airfield and the squadron stayed there until it was stood down in 1957. Since 1971, the Station's role has been largely training, with 611 reforming there in 2013.

Royal Air Force Woodvale is currently home to flying units providing flying training to future University Air Squadron students and giving air experience flights to Air Cadet Organisations within the North West.

Bill Bailey stopping off in resort with his tour

Interview by Henry James

Bill Bailey

COMEDIAN Bill Bailey is taking his Larks In Transit tour the length and breadth of the UK throughout Spring and he is coming to the Southport Theatre for two gigs on April 27 and 28.

He knows Southport well as his wife, Kristin, grew up in the town, and the last time he performed here he remembers having a "family reunion."

Bill, 53, said: "I performed in Southport a few years ago and it was a fantastic night with much banter and nonsense. The gig was really good fun. My wife's family came to watch and it was a family reunion."

The performer can be described as a comedian, musician, singer and radio and TV presenter and he will be touring until June. "During the show I tell tales from my travels around the world," Bill commented.

"There is music, which is a common element of my show and I play a number of different instruments that I have picked up. There is some politics as well. The night can be described as a pot pourri.

"The tour has gone well so far and we have managed to hit the ground running. It has been great fun already.

"While touring sometimes there may be a different atmosphere in the audience and it can be for many different reasons. It may be because of the venue and what people are used to, and what they are expecting. It may also be the mood that people are in.

"In some cases the show you are in can be in a theatre and people expect you to do it and they sit back. At other times, the audience can wade in and shout out and you then realise that the audience are game for anything, and you can take the show off the road."

Bill, who has become a regular on our screens and appeared on Never Mind The Buzzcocks, QI and Have I Got News for You, is also a musician, and music has now become an important part of his shows. He added: "Since my early days of performing stand up music has become an integral part of my shows.

"I try and reflect all the styles of music I like, such as folk, rock, metal, and electronic. The audience will also be able to hear bird calls, and all the sounds we experience in our daily lives."

Bill is a supporter of the Labour party, but was critical of them at the time of the 2015 election campaign, and he talks about politics and current affairs during his touring shows. He added: "Whenever I travel around the world all that people talk about is Brexit.

"People are fascinated by Brexit. This is a strange period in our history where we have upended all the norms of Britain, such as a stable democracy and thrown it out for a new era. We are now in the unknown.

"I love Britain, I love the climate and the weather, but the British are definitely different."

Folk guitarist, singer and War Horse Songman Bob Fox with Lorraine Howarth and Derek Gifford before last Saturday's sell-out performance at Parbold Village Hall.

Show's Songman performs to capacity audience

Report by Henry James

THE folk singer and guitarist Bob Fox who continues to star as Songman in the National Theatre's production of War Horse performed to a sold-out audience in the Auditorium at Parbold's Village Hall on Saturday, March 10.

After the concert he complimented the auditorium on its "great acoustic, atmosphere and the lovely, friendly audience."

Bob's singing is said to evoke the world of the miners and the songs of the northeast. He has been involved in War Horse since 2009 and told the Champion: " War Horse is a fantastic, brilliant story written by Michael Morpurgo. A great story of humanity. A boy's quest to find his horse. It's about friendship. About the human condition and that really the German and British soldiers didn't want to kill each other. They were just there circumstantially. It's a great story. It's got some great songs by John Tams who wrote them or adapted them from existing folk songs. They are rooted in traditional English music.

"The reason John Tams wanted me was that I have spent the last 40 years as a folk singer, primarily singing songs that tell stories. This is what Songman in the show has to do. He not only tells the story but sometimes, in just a couple of lines, conveys the meaning of what's going on. In the show Songman is 'invisible' to everyone in the story, like a Greek Chorus. He appears at important moments to link scenes, or at what we call 'miracle moments' in the play where the 'impossible' happens or Songman makes it happen with his song. There are moments when the whole cast joins in the songs which produces the power of the community to make these 'impossible' things happen."

The audience at the concert were able to enjoy songs from War Horse and others from his folk song collection.

The King lives on in new stage musical at city theatre

THIS is Elvis – Burbank and Vegas will be at the Liverpool Empire from April 23-28.

Steve Michaels, who lives in North America will star as The King in the show. He has been described as having an "incredible likeness" to Elvis, from his voice, hair, side burns, piercing eyes and his mannerisms.

This Is Elvis – Burbank and Vegas celebrates 83 years since Elvis' birth and 50 years since his televised 'Special' aired on NBC Television, which later came to be known as his '68 Comeback Special. The musical follows the true story of this very pivotal period in Elvis' life and career, charting his journey back to stardom and his return to success as a stage performer.

Steve has played alongside some of Elvis Presley's iconic band mates including the legendary drummer DJ Fontana and bassist Jerry Scheff. In addition, he has shared the stage with The Jordanaires and the soulful voices of the Sweet Inspirations. Steve's styling and ability to capture an authentic portrayal of Elvis Presley has endeared him to audiences everywhere across Canada, United States, India, Thailand, United Kingdom, Hong Kong, Philippines and Australia.

It's 1968 - the major musical event of the year was the first live TV special for Elvis Presley in what would come to be known as 'The '68 Comeback Special'.

Drawing phenomenal ratings – almost half of the viewing audience - this event re-establishes Elvis as the major entertainment star of the decade, and 12 months later Elvis stars at the International Hotel in Vegas, performing live for the first time in seven years, and securing his place in history as the King of Rock 'n' Roll!

This Is Elvis recreates all the drama leading up to the comeback as well as staging the monumental concert. It then proceeds with The King to his Vegas debut. Featuring Elvis's greatest hits including…Trouble, Heartbreak Hotel, Blue Suede Shoes, Hound Dog, Love Me Tender, All Shook Up, Jailhouse Rock, One Night, It's Now or Never, Are you Lonesome Tonight?, Can't Help Falling in Love, In The Ghetto, Suspicious Minds, American Trilogy, Just Can't Help Believing and many more…

This production celebrates 50 years since the TV phenomenon and is testament that his songs live on and the King still rules.

Office Assistant - Administration Team

JC&A SOLICITORS

JC&A Solicitors are a well-established Personal Injury Firm who are seeking an enthusiastic candidate to join our Administration Team on a fixed term contract.

The role includes data input, file closing, post, general office duties and other tasks as required. No previous experience is necessary as full training and support will be given, however higher education qualifications would be preferable, but not essential.

Please submit your c.v for the attention of Sue McDermott to info@jcasolicitors.co.uk
If you do not hear from us within 10 days, please assume that your application has been unsuccessful.

Following a recent expansion of our excellent Home Service we are now recruiting to a number of roles within the South Sefton area of Liverpool. By joining the New Directions team we can offer you the following benefits:

- Immediate start, subject to satisfactory employment checks, including an enhanced DBS check
- Competitive rate of pay
- 28 days annual leave, including bank holidays (pro rata for part-time)
- Occupational sick pay
- Car mileage allowance
- Paid travel time
- Pension
- Paid training and induction, with the opportunity to gain a recognised professional qualification in Health & Social Care
- Career development
- Relief work

We currently have vacancies for:

HOME CARE WORKERS

Based in the Waterloo, Litherland, Netherton and Bootle areas providing support and assistance to people of all ages in their home. The role includes personal care, such as: washing, dressing and bathing. No qualifications are necessary. The ability to work evenings and weekends would be advantageous.

REABLEMENT WORKERS

Would you like to work out in the community, supporting and motivating individuals to develop or regain their life skills and confidence following a stay in hospital, illness, crisis, fall at home or change in circumstances in relation to themselves or their carers? Day, evening and weekend shifts so must be flexible. Driver with access to their own vehicle is essential.

CARE CO-ORDINATOR

Based in our Home Service, this is a full time role at our newly refurbished office in Netherton. Reporting directly to the Deputy Home Services Manager you would play a support role in the planning and management of care staff rotas and act as a point of contact for staff, service users, families and other professionals, reporting any changes in service user circumstances or concerns about their welfare. This is a busy and at times demanding job, but equally rewarding. An understanding of the planning and provision of care to adults and an ability to communicate effectively with colleagues and/or other professionals is essential.

TRUSTED ASSESSOR

Carry out initial assessments to determine the needs of vulnerable people who live in their own homes, developing and reviewing care plans as appropriate. A key part of this role will involve identifying and minimising risks in the provision of service user care. Reporting directly to the Deputy Home Services Manager and contributing to the day to day management of the service. Diploma in Health & Social Care Level 3 or equivalent qualification in Health and Social Care is essential.

For information on any of the above roles, please contact Lorna Irving, Reablement & Domiciliary Care Manager on 0151 347 7834 for further information.

DALEY SAMUEL

27th February 2018
My perfect Dad

I was truly blessed to have you as my Dad.
There are no words to describe how precious you are to me.
You have always looked after me, made me happy and made me laugh.
We had such a special bond, Dad and daughter,
my best friend.
Not a day will go by when I don't miss you, think about you or talk about you.
Life will never be the same again.
I love you Dad.
Thank you for being the best role model and grandad to my sons Bradley and Sam who both adore you.
Your loving daughter Maria.

PRAYERS

OH MOST BEAUTIFUL FLOWER OF MOUNT CARMEL Fruitful vine, splendour of Heaven, blessed Mother of the son of God; Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. Oh Star of the Sea, help me and show me you are my Mother. Oh Holy Mary Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succour in my necessity (mention your request) There are none that can withstand your power. Oh Mary conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to Thee (three times). Holy Mary I place this prayer in your hands (three times). Follow this with 9 hail Marys three times a day for three days to publish when prayers are answered. Prayers answered, many thanks. P.P.

MOTHERS DAY MEMORIAM

Life On Cars
DAVID SIMISTER

FORGET everything you've ever learned about quality over quantity for a moment. When you wade into the world of the fabulously wealthy, less is usually a lot more.

The price you'd pay for a truly palatial pad in Kensington, Liverpool, for instance, would barely get you a one-bed flat in its London namesake. A main course at an upmarket restaurant in Marylebone or Mayfair costs more than I'd normally spend on a couple's three-course night out in this part of the world.

And don't get me started on £6 pints. It's the same with cars too, as anyone who's ever ordered a Porsche GT3 and traded rear seats for roll cages and stereos for stripped-back carbonfibre will know. Which is why I have to admire Land Rover for unveiling its new, ultra-luxury spinoff of the Range Rover at the Geneva Motor Show last week. There's lots of "contemporary design" and "up-to-the-minute technology" breaking up the slabs of wood and acres of leather you'd expect on the inside, and they are only building 999 of them, but what you can't fail to notice is that for your £240,000 asking price you get two fewer doors. Automotive proof that less really is more in the world of cars, too.

What it does prove, however, is that if the money's there then it's not impossible to convert a five-door car into a three-door one; which makes me wonder why three-door cars much further down the pecking order are all being quietly killed off.

The Renault Sport Clio – a car you'd expect to arrive sans rear doors, because that way the body's stiffer – is now only available in five-door form, and it's the same story with the Ford Focus, and the Honda Civic. Word has it that the three-door version of Audi's A3 is being pensioned off, too. Which is a real shame, because for all the awkward fumbling you have with sliding seats forward and climbing through narrow gaps there is a youthful sense of fun about three-door hatches and it's sad to see it slowly disappearing.

The Peugeot 205 GTI just wouldn't have had the same frisson of mischief had it been equipped with five doors, and nor would Renault's Clio Williams or Citroen's AX GT. They all had five-door cousins, of course, but it was worth eschewing the practicality for a stiffer bodyshell and cleaner looks. Surely if the argument works for the Range Rover all these years later – especially being positioned as a luxury spinoff – it'll work for the next Ford Focus RS or Honda Civic Type-R, too?

It's exactly the sort of petrolhead argument I'm hoping to win next time I visit the pub.

Anyone got six quid they can lend me?

Skem twice come from behind to rescue point

Trafford 2

Skelmersdale travelled to play-off chasing Trafford on Saturday hoping to bounce back after an abject performance when losing 2-1 at home to bottom placed Goole two weeks ago.

In the eighth minute a Jack Dorney through ball almost put former Skem player Sean Miller in for Trafford, but Skelmersdale goalkeeper Callum Lee Roberts came off his line and grabbed the ball.

Trafford scored on the half-hour. A sweeping diagonal ball found Miller in space on the left. He put the ball low into the penalty area to Burns about six yards out who tapped the ball home to make it 1-0.

Tom Molyneux and Bakkor went close before Skelmersdale struck a fully warranted equaliser in the 41st minute when Jordan Darr popped up in space and steered the ball past Shenton. It was a textbook example of running off the ball and concise finishing.

Skelmersdale remain in 20th place in the table

Jack Dorney had a good chance for Trafford in added time but Roberts made a simple task of ending that and the 1-1 half-time scoreline was the fair one.

Trafford went back into the lead in the 50th minute. Neville, who was by far the host's best player, beat his man on the left and crossed to the far post. Ally Brown got in a header and Roberts made a diving save, but the assistant's flag signalled a goal.

Like the first-half going behind was the catalyst for another wave of Skelmersdale dominance.

Skelmersdale's approach play was excellent and they equalised from a corner. Barrigan swung in the ball and it dropped to Phil Mooney on the six yard line, who instantly put a left-foot shot into the net to notch Skem's second equaliser of the afternoon.

Right on the 90th minute Skelmersdale had a great chance after the hardworking Bakkor stole the ball from Trafford's Scott Sephton. He slotted the ball through to Tunde Owalabi who was kept out by a quality save at his feet by Shenton.

When the final whistle went the result was probably a disappointment to both teams.

After the match manager Dave Powell said: "We had created chances, moved the ball quickly, all the things we have been working on in training over the last few weeks and I am delighted to get a draw against one of the top sides in the league.

"But most of all the character and belief the lads have shown to equalise twice and almost grab it at the end was fantastic."

Linnets set for crunch clash at bottom of table

BURSCOUGH face a crucial clash at the bottom of the table as they host Barnton this Saturday.

Barnton face almost certain relegation after losing 26 of their 33 league games so far, meaning Dave Sutton's team will not get a better chance to get three points.

However, Burscough were without three important members of their side last week against Runcorn Town and it would be a big boost to get them back.

Meanwhile, Skelmersdale will host Colne this Saturday. Colne are in mid-table but have shown some tremendous form since Christmas, lifting themselves up the table to the brink of the play-off positions.

The position as regards relegation in Skelmersdale's division was made clearer last week when the clubs were told by the league that one team will be relegated.

At the same meeting it was also announced that from next season the Evo-Stik League will abandon their North/South format in Division One and make it an East/West split instead.

It is still unclear in Burscough's case as to what the North West Counties will be made up of next season.

Linnets show spirit but lack of firepower leads to heavy defeat

Burscough 2
Runcorn Town 5

BURSCOUGH conceded five goals to one of the league's "big guns" in a difficult afternoon.

Runcorn went into a 4-0 lead before a plucky Linnets team pulled back a couple of goals to give the scoreline a look that better reflected the balance of play.

The promotion chasing visitors took the lead after just five minutes via former Cammell Laird forward Craig Cairns.

Runcorn were making something of a whirlwind start and in the 20th minute it was Cairns turn to become provider, holding the ball up then setting up an onrushing Brazel, who swept the ball into the Burscough net to make it 2-0.

Runcorn looked a very determined side and they made it 3-0 just before the interval, Brazel getting his second with a powerful header from a corner.

Cairns grabbed his second of the game to make it 4-0 inside three minutes.

Chad Whyte pulled a goal back from the penalty spot for his 14th goal of the season.

Runcorn scored a fifth and Cairns grabbed his fourth hat-trick of the season.

Burscough fought on and bagged their second consolation of the game just before the end. Terry Cummings heading the ball home after an excellent cross from the right that followed a good build-up.

It was never going to be an easy one for Burscough and was not a game that they were expected to get much from.
